Name_____Date_____Period_____

The Use of Technology in Counseling and Mental Health

Instructions: As a group, use the computer monitor to write what you know about the use of technology in counseling and mental health. In reference to online counseling procedures, identify some ethical factors that need to be taken into account when considering both client and therapist relationships. Be prepared to share your information.